Now, just releasing their debut EP, first show sold out, only a bunch of concerts played and still made it on their own to one of the biggest music festivals in Europe. ANCHORAGE is on their best way to become Austria's next big heavy export.

Like out of nowhere ANCHORAGE already counts to be a steady part of the Austrian heavy music scene. Post-hardcore wrapped in catchy melodies and brutal tones. That's the sound that catapulted the five guys from Vienna's underground to one of the most important major festivals in Europe. Within two years, they have been announced for Nova Rock Festival to perform at eye level with bands like Slipknot, Sum 41 or The Amity Affliction. Impericon spotted their potential and nominated ANCHORAGE for one of the most aspiring bands in Europe in 2019. And all that despite no record at hand! To cap off that amazing year, ANCHORAGE set up their very own ANCHORFEST and celebrated together with their fans at the sold out Arena Wien.

With their debut EP 'The Fifth Wall' they delivered a must-listen-to concept record for all lyric-lovers. The additional commentary track comes as treat for those who are dedicated to details. The well-known German SLAM Magazine praised the record with 9/10 points and Stormbringer Magazine declared it as „Post-Hardcore as its finest“. After the lockdown ANCHORAGE will start their next chapter by releasing new material.
